PREFACE.

THE present is the third volume of the Annual Indexes of Obituary Notices, and, owing to the delay that has occurred in its publication, it will be followed very shortly by the Index for 1883.

The Indexing of Works of Biography has always been accepted as one of the most important of the objects of the Index Society, and it is hoped that a first instalment of the Index to Obituary Notices in the Gentleman's Magazine will soon be in the hands of the Members. The materials also for an Index to Obituary Notices in Newspapers, Transactions, etc., between the completion of the old Gentleman's Magazine and the commencement of the Annual Volumes of the Index Society, are also in a forward state. It is, therefore, to be hoped that public support will be given to the Society in the endeavour to make a perfect series of Biographical Indexes from 1731 to the present time. The expense of producing these Indexes is considerable, and without this support the period over which the publication must be spread will be longer than the Council would wish.

Like that of former years, the compilation of this Index is chiefly the work of Mr. Arthur R. Cowdroy.
